Board Extends Noon Bus Service To Kindergartners

by KAREN WILTBERGER

As many as 22 Antioch kindergarten students who have started their school careers walking to their afternoon classes will start receiving bus service Sept. 30.

The Board of Education of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 approved to provide noon transportation for the Antioch Lower Grade School kindergartners who live in the Sequoit Terrace area and south of the State Bank of Antioch.

After lengthy discussion, the board decided to add the service for the remainder of the year. Supt. Donald Skidmore said the board, however, denied to make a commitment or extend the services to other students who don't qualify for transportation under the school's policy.

The temporary change in policy stems from a request by two parents of kindergarten students, Skidmore said. The reasons of the request, he said, include distance, lack of side walks and most importantly the lack of older students with whom to walk.

The service for the rest of the year will cost about $3,500. For a full year, the cost would be about $4,000—$2,000 for transportation and a $2,000 loss in state aid due to an increase of ineligible riders.

Under the decision, ineligible riders will increase from 16.9 percent to a maximum of 18.1 percent.

Medical Bldg. To Open In Early 1986

by KAREN WILTBERGER

It used to be a Pay-Less grocery store. But now the vacant Lake Street building is on its way to becoming a medical and urgent care center.

Renovation of the 401 Lake St. building began last week. In only four months, a wide range of services for the entire Northern Lake County area are expected to begin.

The center, owned by Raymond Gavery of the Lakeland Medical Group in Libertyville, is designed for emergencies as well as other services—X-Rays, ultrasound, nuclear medicine, psychotherapy, stress tests, for starters.

Dennis Bietsch, business director of the Lakeland Medical Group, said the center will initially have personnel from Libertyville, but as the center expands more people and types of specialists from the Antioch area will be employed. "People like to see familiar faces," Bietsch said.

Bietsch said Antioch was chosen "because a great deal had been done to improve the downtown, and that was very important to us."

Snuggled in front of the medical center will be retail stores. The stores will be 1,200 to 4,000 sq. ft. Bietsch said the exact space for each store will be determined by the business owners.

The Lakeland Medical Group opened a small office at 800 Main St. in January.

Mayor Raymond Toft called the move "a big shot in the arm for the whole downtown district."

Salaries, Insurance Cause Budget Hike

After a public hearing, the Board of Education of Antioch Community High School approved the 1985-86 school budget which represented a 9.64 percent increase over the 1984-85 budget. This is a $640,000 increase—$6,700,000 to $7,340,000. A nine percent overall increase in the salaries for teachers and staff and higher insurance premiums are the biggest factors in the increase.

Business Mgr. Ken Wierschem reported that liability insurance for schools has not only had significant increases in premium rates but some schools are having problems acquiring coverage. Schools receiving 200 percent to 800 percent increases in premiums are not uncommon.

The board approved the employment of Judith A. Sorensen as an English teacher. She will fill the position of June M. Ross who recently resigned from her teaching position. The board approved the employment of Steve Owens for the position of assistant coach and also the employment of Wayne Alshouse for the position of groundskeeper and mechanic.

In its final action, the board approved the formation of an ice hockey club which will be sponsored by staff member Larry Kamin. The club is scheduled to begin play during the 1986-87 school year.

Supt. Gary Allen presented information related to the elementary/high school articulation meeting to be held during the 1985-86 school year. Representatives from the elementary feeder schools and the high school in the curriculum areas of English, math, science, and social studies will meet at least twice to discuss curriculum concerns.

'Dr. John' Retiring After 10,300 Births

Dr. John H. Schroeder, who has attended at enough births to populate one of Lake County's larger communities, is retiring from active medical practice Oct. 12.

Dr. Schroeder, a native of Lake County, entered active medical practice following service in the Navy during World War II. He has been attending obstetrician and gynecologist at Victory Memorial and St. Therese hospitals ever since.

On June 13, 1982, he officiated at his 10,000th delivery to which more than 300 deliveries have been added. He reported no maternal deaths in all his years of practice.

His more than 10,300 deliveries are believed to be a record in Lake County and rank him near the state's all-time busiest OB practitioners.

As "Dr. John," he was known to parents and families in almost every community in the county. He is 74.

"It's time to step down. I'm going to miss my patients and the hectic pace, but I believe it's the right thing to do," declared Dr. Schroeder, who is an avid gardener and golfer.

He and his wife, Virginia, intend to travel. With a son in Texas and a daughter living in Alaska, that will be easy. The Schroeders have a son and daughter residing in Libertyville and Antioch, respectively. The Schroeders have four grandchildren.

Dr. Schroeder has served as chairman and consultant in OB/GYN at both Victory and St. Therese. In 1978 he was president of the St. Therese staff.

He was the first to successfully perform a complete exchange blood transfusion for a newborn infant at Victory Hospital and he pioneered in 1947 in the total abdominal hysterectomy procedure that is common today.

Along with the Lake County Medical Society, he belongs to a number of professional societies. He is an active member and past president of the Waukegan Exchange Club and medical advisor and consultant to the Lake County Vocational Medical Assistance Training program.

"I was fortunate to enjoy the type of medical practice that brought a doctor close to families. As times change, I see a change in the doctor-patient relationship. Today the approach to health care is in the form of clinics and health care corporations," Dr. Schroeder reflected.

Dr. Schroeder was born on a farm in Half Day where his parents operated a dairy farm. He moved to Waukegan at age 14 where he has resided since. His brother is Marshall R. Schroeder, former owner and publisher of Lakeland Newspapers.

His military duty took him to the South Pacific and Pearl Harbor during World War II. He was recalled to active duty during the Korean War, serving at Great Lakes Naval Hospital. He retired from the Naval Reserve with the rank of commander. He was a recipient of the Distinguished Service Award in World War II.

Dr. Schroeder attended the University of Illinois and graduated from Lake Forest College with B.S. and B.A. degrees. He graduated from Northwestern University Medical School in 1940.

His special training included residencies at Swedish Covenant Hospital, Evanston Hospital and Cook County Hospital.

"I'm actually looking forward to retirement. Along with my hobbies, I know my wife and I will enjoy traveling and our relationships with our civic clubs and senior citizens organizations," reflected the distinguished, white-haired doctor.

Bike-A-thon Set For Sept. 29

Bike-A-Thons to benefit the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society are set to go on Sunday, Sept. 29, according to John Paul, over-all Bike-A-Thon chairman for the area Unit of ACS.

Eleven Lake County communities are participating in the six hour benefit event, which has a $40,000 goal.

This is the 14th year the area Unit of the Cancer Society has sponsored the Bike-A-Thon and it remains the single most important Special Event of their fiscal year; and, as usual, 10-speed bike prizes, t-shirts and jackets will be offered to riders turning in the most monies thru their sponsors.

Support from local businesses and merchants in each of the eleven communities involved provide all prizes and treats; therefore monies donated to the Cancer Society thru cyclists are used solely to support the local programs of the American Cancer Society, according to Paul.

Bike-A-thon Chairmen have arranged for bike routes in the following communities: In Antioch there will be a seven-mile route co-chaired by Chuck Bischoff and Bob Leavitt, and co-sponsored by the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept. and the Antioch Jaycees; in Fox Lake, a six-mile route chaired by Peggy Roberts, Lioness Club of Fox Lake; in Grayslake a seven-mile route chaired by Ross Zah-zucchi; in Gurnee, a 12-mile route co-chaired by Anita and Roy Clark; in Lake Bluff and Lake Forest, a 10-mile route chaired by Sally Stoll; in Lake Villa/Lindenhurst, a 5.5 mile route chaired by Suzi Schmidt and sponsored by the Lake Villa/Lindenhurst Jaycees; in Liber-tyville, a five-mile route chaired by James C. Moran; in Mundelein, a 10-mile and a 25.7-mile route chaired by Bob Bohl; in Round Lake, a six-mile route chaired by Christine Stenzel; in Waukegan, a six-mile route chaired by Gordon Thiele and sponsored by the Waukegan Jaycees; and in Zion/Winthrop Harbor, a 10-mile route chaired by John Paul and sponsored by the Zion Lions Club.

Applications with routes can be found at area libraries and most elementary schools.

Anyone wanting to help ride down cancer on Sept. 29 can get their area route information and an application by calling John Paul, the event over-all chairman at (312) 872-2507, Zion, or the area office of the American Cancer Society in Waukegan at (312) 336-9293.

Legally Blind Brothers Ready For Bike-A-Thon

Nobody thought they could do it. But the visually impaired brothers rode their worn-out three-wheel bicycles 14 miles in the Antioch American Cancer Society Annual Bike-A-Thon last year.

In addition, Tom and Rich Hudd finished in first and third places by collecting the most donations and won 10 speed bicycles. Because the two couldn't ride the bikes, they instead received brand new three-wheelers.

And this year they're more ready than ever to beat their 14-mile record. Everyday for a month now, they have been riding around their Oakwood Knolls neighborhood collecting donations getting ready for the Sept. 29 bike-a-thon.

"I don't know how far I'll go, but I'm trying to top last year," said 24-year-old Tom. Rich, 28, agreed.

Their mother, Connie, said the boys are getting 10-cent, 25-cent and 50-cent donations, unlike last year's $1 donations, "because now the neighbors know they can do it." So they are collecting more to make up for it, she said.

Full-Day Kindergarten? Preschool? You Decide

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Full-day kindergarten and pre-school in Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 could be a reality—one that may be just as real some situations today—both parents working full-time jobs and others providing culturally deprived homes.

Under the Illinois Educational Reform Act, the state is encouraging school districts to offer the two programs. The pre-school is particularly designed to accommodate children who are "academically at risk," meaning they come from deprived homes.

For the districts that offer these programs, the state will provide special education personnel reimbursement one year after the program begins.

On the surface, the programs seem to be too good to be true, said Supt. Donald Skidmore. But if the district were to implement the two programs, he said, it would have to find about $113,000 in start-up costs and $68,500 each year thereafter (in terms of today's cost and aid.)

Skidmore said he has no question in his mind that there is a social need for the programs. There has been a dramatic shift in social norms—people are marrying at an older age and having less children. Mothers of young children are keeping their careers—many because of financial reasons. And parents need an affordable, productive place to bring their children on weekdays, Skidmore said.

According to National Labor Board statistics as well as local surveys, 65 percent of mothers with children in school work.

Feds Issue Warrant, Step In On Kelly Case

by GLORIA DAVIS

Woodruff Kelly's wife Ann and his family have been publicly declaring his death through their attorney by using terms like "Kelly's estate" and "Kelly's widow," but federal and state authorities are working on a different angle.

"We suggest he is alive somewhere living on the investments of the people who trusted him," said Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman during a press conference he called on Sept. 20 to announce that a federal warrant for mail fraud had been issued against Kelly.

Foreman said that the reigns of the Kelly investigation were now in the hands of federal authorities.

Up to that time no official warrant had been issued against Kelly, although civil lawsuits had been filed by investors against him. On Sept. 20 the U.S. Atty's office issued a warrant against Kelly charging mail fraud, a crime punishable by imprisonment for up to five years and/or a $1,000 fine.

Foreman said this was only an initial charge, one putting the case into the federal ballpark. He added that further investigation could more than likely produced other charges.

The warrant is based on one particular incident of using the mails (crossing state lines) to commit fraud.

Officially the complaint charges that Kelly, 41, the owner of Woodland Investment Co., Gurnee, took approximately $5,148,807 from investors interested in purchasing second mortgage deeds. Kelly failed to invest this money for clients before disappearing from a boat leaving Kenosha Harbor on June 8.

Assistant States' Atty. Mike Fritz, who had been spearheading the investigation for Foreman's office, said that this was just the amount of money involved in the Lake County investigation. He added that Kelly had other business interests in other parts of the country which would now be under investigation by the federal government to see if any other fraudulent investments were made by Kelly through them.

Foreman mentioned that the wide-spread publicity given to the Kelly case had drawn the attention of the United States Atty. General Edwin Meese who promised complete cooperation from federal authorities.

All that Foreman's office had against Kelly was a securities violation, punishable by up to three years in the penitentiary. Foreman said that his office delayed in pushing this charge so as not to hamper any federal charges.

Fritz added that the interview of 300 investors and going through boxes of papers confiscated from Kelly's Gurnee office was also very time consuming.

Foreman said that only Kelly's charter boat office in Waukegan Harbor and the Gurnee Investment office had been searched.

He added that reports of two employees removing records from the Gurnee office immediately after Kelly's disappearance were still under investigation.

Foreman said that Kelly home, located in Bristol, W.I., had not been searched, not only in deference to the family's privacy but also because there was no probable cause for a legal search.

He also said that no investigation had been made into the present personal finances of the family, though that might enter into a further federal investigation.

Foreman added that, to his knowledge, any offices of Kelly's in Florida had not been searched but were now opened to it under the federal agencies.

Foreman gave an opinion that the fact that Kelly's son Sean was attending college in Florida gave thought to the possibility that Kelly might be in the area of the Florida Keys (with hundreds of islands supplying hiding places) or close by in the Caribbean since he had vast knowledge of the area.

Mentioning that Kelly was an excellent sailor Foreman said, "He disappeared on the water and had contacts in Florida and knowledge of the sea."

Sean Kelly pled guilty to theft of food, a tv and a video recorder from a friend in Salem and received two years probation.

Foreman said that he could not be charged with the felony of home invasion because he did have the owners' permission to be in the Salem home.

The state's attorney said that the wide dissemination of information on the case should help the federal investigation saying, "I am confident he will be found."

He added that the federal warrant put the information in a national information center's computer so that if Kelly is picked-up on even a minor infraction it would show up.

Since Kelly's business property is now in receivership and other possessions such as the home in Bristol, a yacht etc. were mortgaged and would be the property of the mortgagee if payments have been in default, Foreman's office has no idea if the family has other resources to live on and-or what they could be.

His wife had owned two now defunct interior decorating and curio businesses, one in Antioch and the other in Lake Geneva.

Kiesgen Out For Board Seat

Charlotte Kiesgen, long-time Grant Township women's Republican leader, has announced her candidacy for Dist. 4 nomination to the Lake County Board.

Kiesgen said she will be running as an independent Republican from the four township area of Antioch, Grant, Lake Villa and Avon townships.

Two seats will be up for election in the November, 1986, general election. Winning the GOP nomination has been the pathway to election in the past in Dist. 4.

Kiesgen emphasized her independence, disavowing the possibility of running on a slate.

"I come from a political family and I've been interested in politics for a long time. As a campaign worker and a supporter of Republican candidates, I've considered running for various offices.

"I think the County Board is a proper platform," stated Kiesgen, who spent eight years as a deputy assessor of Grant Township.

She stressed that she intentionally is not focusing at this point on specific issues other than high taxes and economy in government.

"I'm doing my homework. The people who know me, and I hope the voters will discover, know that I have definite opinions and I will speak out at the proper time," she declared.

The candidate's husband, Jack, is Grant Township highway commissioner and GOP chairman of Grant. Her brother-in-law is Grant town clerk.

"You can see why I didn't feel it was proper to run for a township office," joked the mother of an 18-year-old daughter, Brenda. The Kiesgens reside at 53 Marvin Ave., Fox Lake.

Backers of her candidacy have staged a combination kick off and fund raiser Oct. 16 at the Mineola Hotel, Fox Lake.

Kiesgen said she intends to appear before as many voter meetings as possible and that she will seek a party endorsement.

In addition, she announced key members of her campaign team as follows:

Wauconda Arist Exhibits At Art In The Barn

by STACIE ELLIS

It was just another cold winter day out on the duck blind that became the turning point in the hunter's life. Tired of wading in frigid waters to scavenge a dead duck, the hunter tossed aside his gun and took up the precision tools of wildlife sculpting.

Six years ago, Al Stone stumbled upon his forte by carving his first duck out of a log. He decided it was easier to carve a duck than to kill a duck. Since that day, Stone has become an accomplished wildlife sculptor.

A graduate of Wauconda High School, Stone has lived in the area for the past 11 years. Over the years, Stone has developed his flair for design through oil and watercolor painting, airbrushing, engineering and sculpting. He attributes his artistic talent to heredity.

"Every second generation of the family had a great painter," he said. Stone's great-uncle, Carl Palenske of Kankakee, Ill., was a professional painter (although poor and starving) two generations ago; now it's Stone's turn.

Stone has already made a name for himself in the world of wildlife sculpture. He will be one of the many artists featured at Good Shepherd Hospital's Art in the Barn juried exhibition and sale on Sept. 28 and 29.

Stone sells his sculptures anywhere between $50 and $1,000, depending upon the complexity, primarily by "word of mouth." He has also made many sales by exhibiting at The Gallery of Good Shepherd Hospital.

Stone donated one of his sculptures to Ducks Unlimited, a wildfowl preservation organization, and is now working on plans for the red-tail hawk that he will be entering in the World Championship next year. He hopes to place at the championship because such an award is a guarantee for professional success, he said.

Presently employed as a machine tool design engineer for special automated equipment, Stone hopes to totally dedicate himself to his art and open 'Al Stone's Wildlife Studio' in Island Lake or Wauconda by next year.

Right now, Stone sculpts waterfowl but plans on fish and other forms of wildlife in the future.

Wearing a 'Save Our Wildfowl' t-shirt, Stone busies himself in the shop that he made in his garage. Before a hunk of wood is transformed into a bird, Stone researches the specie to get the realistic anatomy and feather coloring. He is likely to refer to "Audubon's Birds of America" while drafting his plans.

Stone and his wife, Leanna, and son, Jon, spend hours at forest preserves and zoos watching the waterfowl. Stone's keen observance of birds materializes in the form of a sculpture so realistic that it fools the eye. Not only is the exact likeness created, but the mood is captured. With the precision of a dentist, the patience of a saint, a thorough understanding of waterfowl anatomy and carving tips from Richard Le Master's books, Stone spends hours carving birds. A simpler bird, like a heron or crane, only takes about four hours, whereas a Peregrine falcon usually takes three weeks or more. Stone uses bass or jelutong wood, both soft woods. (Jelutong is a very expensive wood from Malaysia.)

"I spend hours and hours in my shop...but it's something that I love, and that makes it all worthwhile," Stone said.

Stone surrounds himself with his work. His living room is an aviary of sculptures. Snow owls, falcons, hawks and ducks perch on a shelf and gaze at their creator. Stone looks back, satisfied with his decision to take up wildlife sculpting.

The Art in the Barn exhibit will be this Saturday and Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Last year, approximately $125,000 worth of artwork was sold at the show; 20 percent of this amount went to Good Shepherd Hospital, Stone said.

Pet Of The Week

An "Adams Family" portrait of their beloved pet spider? Not quite. This eight-legged tarantula, "Natascha," has been a part of the Krueger family, of Mundelein, for almost three years. Pictured above, Mary Krueger looks with apprehension at her sister Linelle's pet which often tries to escape, but never succeeds. This hairy creature has colorful gold, brown and black spots. She usually sheds her skin every July, but forgot to this year. If anyone would like to introduce their pet to Lakeland readers, contact the editor of this newspaper.

Survey Smoking Ban Plan

Any action to curtail smoking in the buildings of the College of Lake County has been delayed until Nov. 5.

The College Senate in conjunction with the Student Senate has authorized an opinion survey of the student body to determine their attitude on the issue. There was also discussion regarding the possibility of an analysis of the air content of the college facilities.

During the meeting, English Professor George Zimmer sponsored a motion to ban all smoking from the campus.

History Professor Bill Buchner said that "the students were not as concerned as full-time faculty and staff with the issue because they are transients. They feel that they can put up with the smoke for a year or two." Furthermore he said: "This is not appropriate for a poll. We have a known health hazard here. It is as asbestos floating through the air, would you take a poll? I think not." In a secret ballot, the Zimmer resolution to ban all smoking was defeated.

Dr. James Doppke was assigned responsibility to develop a survey instrument for the students on the smoking issue. The College Senate will attempt to resolve the matter at its Nov. 5 meeting.

'Barefoot' Next Kirk Production

The Kirk Players, of Mundelein, open their 20th season with the wonderful comedy "Barefoot in the Park" by Neil Simon. A fun show with Paula Willems (Wildwood) and Tom Schrimpf (Mundelein) as a pair of slightly mismatched newlyweds.

Willems plays a free spirited wife, and Schrimpf a rather sedate young lawyer. The somewhat subdued mother-in law is played delightfully by Phillis Carter (Mundelein).

Adding to the enjoyment is Hill Carter (Mundelein), playing a 50-year-old mountain climber upstairs neighbor. Making his debut is Bill Phillips (Wauconda) as the comical telephoneman.

The fun can be seen Sept. 27 and 28 at Mundelein High School. Tickets are $4 for adults, $2 for students, and $1 for senior citizens and children.

This production is a benefit for the Waukegan Arts Council, a northern Lake County Arts Supporter. For more information or tickets call, (312) 566-6594.

'Fiddler' Super Show

by JEAN RYBICKI

PM&L's latest musical production, "Fiddler On The Roof," opened promptly on Sept. 20 to a capacity crowd and within minutes the audience was tapping its feet to the tunes of each scene as it unfolded showing the strife and humor in the lives of Russian Jewish peasants.

Much of the humor and some of the heartaches were expertly shown when the daughters of Tevye and Golde decide to choose their own husbands instead of going along with the traditional way of matchmaking.

Sacco) all turn in top-notch portrayals.

Of course just seeing Lillian Allen's name on a cast list practically guarantees a good performance and her version of Yente (the Matchmaker) is a sterling one.

Mark Badtke plays Motel the Tailor, doing the part more than justice.

Andrew Dominguez who plays the Fiddler also deserves a big round of applause as does the rest of the large cast.

PM&L's production staffs never cease to amaze me with their evident cooperation and teamwork. Bravo for the directing of Tom Hausman, Nancy Kiederlein's musical direction, Elmarie Beno's stage direction, and Donna Badtke's choreography, as well as the work of Aileen Biel as production manager.

The set (also done by Hausman) was very authentic as were all the stage props.

This well-worth-while show will run this coming weekend and the two following ones.

Don't miss it for really great musical enjoyment as the strains of "Sunrise Sunset," "If I Were A Rich Man," "To Life," "Miracle Of Miracles," "Now I Have Everything," and "Do You Love Me," are delivered expertly by the talented cast.

Stage Review

Tevye, the dairyman, is superbly played by local theatrical veteran Ken Smouse and another little theater vet, Ann Marie Cina, gives a fantastic performance as his wife Golde.

Their daughters have little trouble stealing the show off and on, as Treitel (Debbie Beno), Hodel (Rosline Trusky) and Chava (Jubie

The agency needs crisis line counselors, who for would be working a few hours a week from their homes. It also needs advocates, who would be able to assist victims by counseling as well as helping them through medical exams, police investigations and court proceedings.

The first training session will be held at the Waukegan Public Library, 128 N. County, on Wednesday, Oct. 2 from 6 to 9 p.m. The second session will be at St. Therese Hospital and the remaining eight sessions will be held on Wednesdays, Oct. 16 to Dec. 4.

Two keynote speakers will be Edwin Gately and Virginia Hoffman, presenting "Go Out and Bear Fruit" and "The Call to Feed God's People." Gately founded the volunteer Missionary Movement in England in 1969, started the Genesis House of Hospitality for Prostitutes and Street Women in 1983 and is currently a street minister and speaker. Hoffman is founder and director of the Ministry Center of Lake County and teaches theology at Loyola University.

Barn Dances Set In Grayslake

An old-time barn dance will be held Saturday night, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m., at the Grayslake Park Dist. Building, 42 S. Seymour, Grayslake.

This dance is the first in a series of barn dances to be held the fourth Saturday of the month presented by the Grayslake Park Dist. this fall. Other dances are scheduled Oct. 26 and Nov. 23.

The Old Time Dances will be called by "Uncle" Roy Reinholds, with live music provided by It's Fer Reel String Band.

The band consists of a fiddle, guitar, five-string banjo and other string instruments. They will play old time tunes that have been danced to by Americans of yesteryear at grange halls, old barns and big city lodge halls and ballrooms.

According to Uncle Roy, barn dancing differs from modern "Mainstream" and "Plus" square dancing in that there is always live music at barn dances and the dances tend to be more traditional.

When needed, the old-time dances and figures are "walked through" before dancing. In this way, the newcomer to barn dancing will be able to dance along with the more experienced dancer. Costume is not important in barn dancing. Matching ladies' dresses and men's shirts are not necessary—many women come to the dance wearing jeans.

All of the people in Grayslake and surrounding communities are invited to attend these Saturday night barn dances. They are recommended for children as well as adults, with or without square dancing experience.

Dancers will be able to enjoy folk tradition that people of North America have enjoyed since the founding of our country. Admission is $3.

For more information about barn dancing, call Uncle Roy at (312) 223-2081.

Parents Should Teach Rules Of The Road

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312) 395-2761

When your children are babies and toddlers, great care is taken in purchasing their toys. The companies have strict rules and regulations regarding safety; age limitations are in view and parents feel comfortable knowing that the toy they purchase is safe for their child. What happens as they grow older? We know our children will be able to drive at sixteen. Do we go out and buy them a car without any driver's training? No, of course not. Why then, are so many parents buying dirt bikes and motorcycles for their twelve and thirteen-year-olds and saying "Go out and enjoy; be home for dinner."

Sorry for this lengthy dissertation on dirt bikes, but there have been accidents in our area. There has been reckless driving. Maybe if we work together we can eliminate future problems. By the way, there is a dirt bike racing area at the Maplehurst track in Wilmet, Wis. It might be a good place to go and really let the kids have a good time racing around.

Keep in mind that ladies' volleyball is starting this week on Tuesday, Sept. 24 from 7 until 9 p.m. If you missed the first session, give Linda Boerman or Ceil Bennett a call and let them know if you will be attending next week's game.

According to a reliable source, the Grass Lake Haunted House is underway. More help is still needed and if you are interested in being a monster this year, give Pat or Chris Priller a call and let them know you are willing to help. What a great way to start the new PTO year—with lots of calls from you folks willing to donate some time. If you want to have fun and help a worthy organization, the Haunted House is the place to start. You don't need to have a child attending Grass Lake School in Grass Lake School. The third grade will also have their turn at Camp Ravenswood for swimming on Sept. 27.

Birthday wishes go to Laura Edelman, who will be celebrating her day on Sept. 26. She will be eight years old. Jeff Rey will be celebrating his day on Oct. 6. Scouts Find Adventure In New Mexico Trip

Editor's note: The following article was contributed by Paul Hettich, a committee member of Antioch's Troop 92 Boy Scouts of America.

In observance of the 75th anniversary of scouting, eight members of Antioch's Troop 92 Boy Scouts of America completed a 12-day high adventure trip at the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico. Located at the eastern edge of the Sangre de Cristo range of the Rocky Mountains, Philmont consists of 215 square miles of rugged mountain wilderness.

There are 26 staffed camps and 50 unstaffed camps that lie within the ranch boundaries. Philmont has high mountains that dominate rough terrain with an elevation that ranges from 6,500 to 12,441 feet. The ranch was a gift of oil millionaire Waite Phillip and has been in operation for 40 years. This year about 12,000 scouts and leaders hiked the ranch.

The Antioch scouts who attended include Mark Aschbacher, crew leader; Brian Clark, assistant crew leader; Dale Gade, Phil Hettich, Bob Paschke and Frank Zeien. All boys attend Antioch Community High School, and each holds the scout rank of Star of Life. The two adult advisors who accompanied the scouts were Fred Zeien and Paul Hettich.

The itinerary included ten nights on the trail and covered more than 50 miles. The group carried all personal and crew gear in backpacks that averaged about 43 pounds each. The major highlights of the trip included an eight-mile climb up Mount Phillips, New Mexico's third highest mountain at 11,771 feet, and a steep ascent to the 9,000-foot Tooth of Time, a landmark to pioneers who traveled the Santa Fe trail.

The group's daily itinerary usually featured a special program conducted by Philmont staff. These programs included rock climbing, repelling, panning for gold at Cypher's Mine, blacksmithing, burro racing, black powder rifles, horseback riding, a chuckwagon dinner, pole climbing at a limber camp, mountain search and rescue, and many camp fire programs. In addition, the group performed a three-hour conservation service project which included clearing portions of a jeep trail that had been buried by a mud avalanche.

Excellent weather conditions contributed to the enjoyment of the expedition. There was much less rain than anticipated. Night temperatures dipped to the mid 30s while daytime temperatures only reached the low 90s. Deer and wild turkey were seen often. Although signs of bear and mountain lion were common, there were no sightings.

Nearly all trail meals consisted of selections of pre-packaged dehydrated food innovatively prepared and thoroughly enjoyed by the hungry backpackers.

Transportation to and from Philmont was via Amtrak which stops at Raton, New Mexico, an hour bus ride from Philmont. The 1985 trip to Philmont was an exciting and most enjoyable experience that will be forever remembered by this group of Antioch scouts. Troop 92 is sponsored by Antioch Loyal Order of the Moose.

All Troop 92 Scouts are able to earn their way to camp by selling meat raffle tickets during the Spring months. The winners of the 1985 meat raffle and their prizes were: Nikki Nielsen (beef hind-quarter); Robert Lee (beef fore-quarter); LJ Goetz (turkey); Mary Sluda (ham); Don Rodgers (turkey); and Valerie Swanson (ham). Troop 92 thanks all who contributed to the raffle, and its sponsor, Antioch Loyal Order of the Moose.

Enrollment Up

Shimer College has enrolled 103 students for its fall term. The enrollment represents a 21 percent increase over the 85 students enrolled in the fall of 1984.

The current student population includes 63 students in the weekday college and 40 students in the weekend college for working adults. Fourteen weekday students are studying abroad in Shimer's program in Oxford, England.

Shimer, a four year liberal arts college, has been small throughout most of its 132 year history. The college experienced a low enrollment of 43 students following its relocation to Waukegan from Mr. Carroll, Illinois in 1979. The school's student population has shown a steady growth since 1981.

Last fall, Shimer announced its plans to develop a block of houses in Waukegan's National Historic District into a campus of restored buildings unified by a central commons.

The plan, as outlined by the architects of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, provides for academic, administrative and dormitory space.

The completed campus will enable the college to accommodate a projected enrollment of 450 students (weekday and weekend programs combined).

Viking Lightweights Beat Spartans 12 - 0

In a game played Sunday at Round Lake, the Antioch Viking lightweight team defeated the Round Lake Spartans 12 - 0. The game was dominated by Antioch's hard-hitting, swarming defense that forced three interceptions and numerous fumbles.

Keying the defense were Brad Behling, Fred Alexander, Ed McGran, Dale Morgan, Frank Hannigan, defensive line, with linebackers Keith Cardin, Craig Rensch, Pat Cote and Jered Duda completely shutting down the running game.

Defensive back Jon Dobosh led the secondary with four tackles, one interception and a fumble recovery.

The offense was plagued in the first half by fumbles and penalties, but came out in the second half to control the ball with a strong running game led by Glenn Graham with 116 yds. and two touchdowns, and Greg Loecher with 80 yds.

The offensive line of Ed McGinn, Jack Thompson, Craig Rensch, Aaron Martin, Chris Parker, Dan Pappidakis, and Pat Cote consistently gave their backs room to run.

Antioch plays next at Carmel Highschool, Wednesday night against Mundelein.

High Donation Collectors

Brothers

Tom and Rich, who had an escort in last year's bike-a-thon, agree that they are determined and enjoy helping other people. Their mother seconded that motion. "Some people probably went further, but they didn't collect as many pledges," she said. This year each of her sons have already filled four pledge sheets with 40 names on each.

Getting ready for the ride, the Hudd brothers ride their new bicycles everyday throughout the neighborhood. "Some people know me that I never knew before," Tom said.

The two began riding three-wheelers about four years ago when the family could only afford one bike. After seeing the brothers share a bike for a couple years, a neighbor, Jim Mara, gave the family a second bike.

And ever since, the Hudd brothers have been riding. But that's not all they have in common, well sort of—

Both spend many hours listening to music. But while Rich is taping the Loop midnight albums—the Rolling Stones, Pink Floyd and Joe Walsh, for instance—Tom is kicking back to the tunes of Elvis Presley, Barry Manilow and Kenny Rogers.

"I must sound like an old fogey," said Tom. "Don't get me wrong, I like some rock-n-roll, but I'm not as big of a fan as he is."

Tom also spends a lot of time watching T.V. Though he doesn't watch Miami Vice, he tunes in to St. Elsewhere and All My Children. He also keeps up on the National Enquirer news, reading with the help of a Visualtec machine, which was donated by the Antioch Lions Club a few years ago.

Rich, however, can't see well enough to read or watch T.V. "I listen to stereo more than I watch T.V.," Rich said, pointing out his nearly 90-tape and 100-album collection of rock groups.

"I hardly buy albums anymore, I record now," said Rich. "Albums are made so they can get scratched more easily."

The Hudd brothers, who are graduates of the Illinois School for the Visually Impaired, say they are looking forward to the ride.

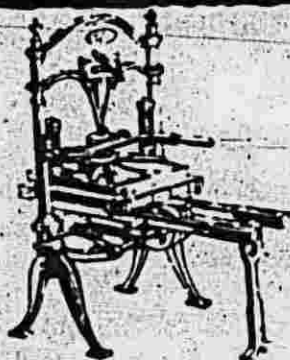

And they're not shy about telling you that they can do it. "Nobody can compete with us," said Tom with a big grin.

And Rich agreed.

Dems Outnumber GOP On College Board

Seven College of Lake County trustees are the only school board members elected on a countywide basis. They run for the board on a nonpartisan basis, and serve six-year terms. Like Coles, the present CLC trustees all have partisan attachments.

Two of them are Republicans. Retiring CLC board member, Eleanor Rostrom, is a GOP member of the Lake County Board. Trustee Nancy Block's husband, William, is a Lake County Circuit Court Judge.

Five of the CLC trustees are affiliated with the Democratic party. F. James Lumber was an unsuccessful candidate for the U.S. House of Rep. in the 1976 Democratic primary. Richard Anderson was defeated for the Democratic nomination for the Lake County Board in a special 1977 primary election.

Nan Fairhurst was the 1982 Democratic nominee for Lake County Treasurer against Republican incumbent Jack "Red" Anderson. Fairhurst garnered only 36 percent of the vote in her unsuccessful bid for county treasurer. Millicent Berliant is a former Democratic County Board member. She was defeated in the 1984 elections in an attempt to recapture a seat on the Lake County Board. Richard Bryan temporarily contemplated a possible Democratic candidacy for Regional Supt. of Education in the 1986 elections.

Recently, Bryan announced that he wouldn't field a candidacy next year in order to concentrate on his responsibilities as CLC Trustee.

Ron Coles of Lake Villa will be competing with four other aspirants for three positions on the CLC Board in the Nov. 5 elections. The other candidates include incumbents Lumber of Round Lake and Anderson of Grayslake along with political newcomers Melody Brown of Round Lake Beach and Dorothy Harnish of Grayslake. Harnish's husband, Frank, has been a longtime speech and drama teacher at CLC. Mrs. Harnish was recruited to run for the board by faculty member Bob Dawson who teaches sociology at CLC. He is also chairman of the political committee of the CLC Federation of Teachers Local 2394. The CLC union is an affiliate of the Illinois Federation of Teachers.

Dawson claims that Coles' election "would be a disgrace to the college because he is a convicted felon." In 1976, a federal court convicted Coles of accepting $800 in campaign contributions from two tavern owners. Dawson is expected to encourage the teachers' union to endorse Lumber, Anderson and Harnish in the forthcoming election.

Petitions Available

Petitions for the March 18, 1986 primary election are now available in the county clerk's office, according to County Clerk Linda Hess.

Offices which will be nominated by each party are: county clerk, sheriff, county treasurer, regional superintendent of schools, county board members (two in each district), North Shore Sanitary District trustees (one seat in each of wards two, three and five).

Offices to be elected will be precinct committeemen and women in every precinct in the county for both political parties.

"In addition," Hess noted, "we will be administering an election for aldermen of both Lake Forest and North Chicago. Petitions for these positions can be obtained at the office of the appropriate city clerk."

Nov. 5 To Be Busy Day

In Illinois, with its multiplicity of local governmental units, there always seems to be another election around the corner. Even a legislative effort several years ago to consolidate elections hasn't helped much. So, mark your calendars, voters, and get ready to go to the polls Nov. 5 to elect school officials.

That same day in some communities there will be other issues on the ballot as well. Most notably in this locality is the Round Lake area where electors will have four important issues to consider besides their choices for school board seats.

The Round Lake propositions include two library matters and a question of the annexation of the sprawling Baxter Laboratories plant on Wilson Rd. to the park district. Easily the most eye-catching issue, however, on both a local and regional level, is the question of consolidation of the area's four villages into one municipality.

There are a number of intriguing aspects of the consolidation proposition, not the least of which is the fact that the successful merger would vault Round Lake past such population centers as Libertyville and Mundelein in size, and create another city in Lake County, as opposed to the score or more of village incorporations.

With a city form of government, the whole municipal complexion changes. Political life is altered immeasurably. For elected officials, city form of government is the fast lane as opposed to the more leisure, laid-back village form. At least that's the way we see it.

It can be hoped that the consolidation measure attracts a ringing voter turnout. The question must carry in all four municipalities to be successful so if the outcome is loud and clear it will be better for all concerned.

Nov. 5 will be a busier day for some than others, but voters should remember to get to the polls.

Remember Stratton

Lying a few city blocks east of Morris in north-central Illinois, just off Rte. 47, is William Stratton State Park. The seven-and-a-half acre, riverside area is regarded primarily as a boat access point on the Illinois River—one of the stream's best. The area bustles with activity on weekends and holidays.

Dotted with picnic sites, William Stratton State Park had more than 103,000 visitors during the first six months of this year and probably will exceed the 161,000 to 194,000 annual attendance it has posted over the past five years. The park memorializes a native son of Lake County, born and raised in Ingleside, a graduate of Warren Township High School and one of the best Illinois governors of modern times.

Along with the Stratton Building in Springfield, the state suitably has honored an outstanding public servant. Now we believe it is high time that the citizens of Lake County take steps to provide for lasting recognition of one of the greatest political leaders this locality has produced.

Stratton served two terms as governor from 1952 to 1960. Previous to entering the state mansion he served with distinction as a congressman-at-large and state treasurer. The former Republican chief executive and his wife now are residents of Chicago.

Gov. Stratton came from pioneer stock. His father gained political fame as an outstanding secretary of state and a distinguished director of conservation. Other members of the Stratton family were involved in public service and leadership roles in Grant Township. It would be fitting and proper if some public edifice in Grant Township could be named in honor of the outstanding governor, perhaps the new township center now in the planning stages.

Ironically, Lake County voters turned their back on Bill Stratton in 1960 when he sought to overcome the then third term jinx for Illinois governors, failing to defeat the late Otto Kerner, who interestingly had strong ties in Antioch. The present occupant of the governor's mansion is making much of his Build Illinois program, yet Gov. Stratton's administration doesn't have to take a backseat to any administration for advancements in transportation, schools and public facilities.

Let's not forget a local boy who made good.

Letter To The Editor

Stop Maneuvering

Editor:

The anti-school board factions have been very vocal in their opposition to the school board's plan to rebuild Warren Twp. High School. I believe it is time for those of us who favor Plan C to speak up. We are not necessarily a minority as the Citizens' Fact Finding Committee would have you believe.

The opposition has done much to prevent the timely return of our teens to the Gurnee campus. They have put one stumbling block after another in the way and cost us, the taxpayers, money in legal fees and extra money that will have to be spent renting the Lake Forest High School.

I take great exception to the concept of "if it was good enough for me, it is good enough for my kids." America was not built on that premise. Learning is not facilitated by overcrowding, dingy classrooms and a building in which few can take pride. Multi-levels are inefficient for heating and cooling as well as for movement from one class to another.

I have a sophomore at WTHS and have been impressed with the increase of disciplines which has occurred. This seems to derive partly from the need and desire to keep the Lake Forest campus, a beautiful new building, in tip-top condition. I would agree with some detractors that a building does not necessarily make for a good education. However, a favorable environment with easy access to all, no overcrowding and proper ventilation will certainly improve the climate for learning and is just what is needed. This will also help the morale of our teachers who are underpaid and working under adverse circumstances when compared to other high schools in Lake County.

Anyone who has sat through a bad concert or dramatic presentation in the gym can appreciate the need for an auditorium. Those teachers and students who put in so much time and effort toward rehearsals and performances deserve to be heard. The parents and public who attend should be able to sit in some semblance of comfort with the ability to hear the presentation. The acoustics and seats in the gym are terrible! A 600 seat auditorium should certainly be an asset to the community and a source of revenue when rented.

My taxes, like all others, will go up and since I own a large house, I will pay proportionately more. If this means that I have to work a few extra hours per week or tighten my spending belt so that my two sons can learn in a decent building, then so be it.

Those who don't have children who will attend the school understandably may be reluctant to have an increase in taxes. I would ask you to consider what a poor school does to your property values and ability to sell your house if you desire. One of the first questions asked of realtors is, "How are the schools?" Additionally this is an investment in the future of those students who may become the future leaders of our community.

An argument has been preferred that the projection figures for future enrollment are too high. There is much farm land for sale and several new developments which will bring more children and more tax dollars. Perhaps if the developer who has spent so much time and money to fight against the new school were unable to sell his property he would think differently.

The time has come to stop the legal maneuvering, bite the bullet and return our kids to Gurnee. Let's get the ground work done before winter so that we can move our kids out of Lake Forest and save the $100,000 per month as soon as possible. Let us support Plan C and get on with it!

Tourism Bureau Launched With Enthusiasm

by BILL SCHROEDER

It may come as somewhat of a surprise, but there are some hard-working folks who consider Lake County a tourism mecca—and they want others to feel the same way.

They are members of the Lake County, Ill., Convention & Visitor's Bureau (LCICVB), which is closing in on its first birthday, having been organized by resolution of the Lake County Board on Nov. 30, 1984.

So far the bureau hasn't done much more than get organized, have a few meetings and publish a brochure—and invite like-minded individuals to join their cause for $50 a year.

We don't argue a bit with the slogan adopted by the bureau: The Great American County. We happen to agree that our corner of the world is a pretty neat place as opposed to say, Cleveland, Ohio, or Hoboken, N.J.

LCICVB is the brainchild of Charles "Chuck" Isely III, president of the Waukegan/Lake County Chamber of Commerce, and a veteran Illinois tourism booster. Isely collects titles and jobs like some people collect hotel towels. He's got a lot of them. Chuck is chairman of the board of the bureau.

Lake County already attracts a great many visitors, but they only see small parts of our rolling countryside, principally Great America amusement park, Great Lakes Naval Training Center and the Chain O' Lakes. The bureau aims to make sure that visitors enjoy more of our locality in the belief that more visitors is good business. Nothing wrong with that idea.

Isely is networking with local chambers of commerce to build a task force of tourism promoters. The following persons are on the ground floor of local tourism:

Carol Badame, Antioch; J. Robert York, Deerfield; Kathryn Gundelach, Fox Lake; Walter Krumrey, Grayslake; Virginia Collins, Highland Park; Bruno Bertucci, Highwood; MaryLee Helander, Lake Forest; Robert C. Kraemer, Lake Zurich; Joanne Boehm, Libertyville/Mundelein, Vernon Hills; Dan Friedlander, Greater Lincolnshire; Marie Thompson, North Chicago; Mary Gunia, Round Lake; Sharon Henry, Wauconda; Chuck Paxson, Zion/Winthrop Harbor; John Ward, Lake County Building Trades Council; Richard Miller, Lake County Development Council; Russell Hamm, College of Lake County; John Morison, Marriott Lincolnshire; Robert Wildey, Six Flags Great America, Lynn Mallery and Gail Svendsen.

Quite a group and quite an ambitious project. We wish them well.

SPRINGY THOUGHT—I haven't started raking my leaves yet, but the Mundelein-Vernon Hills Rotary Club already is thinking about next spring. Rotarians will plant 15 daffodils in your yard for a donation of $5 that will go to their community beautification fund and Rotary Scholarship Fund. One of the Rotarians with information on daffodil planting is our former state representative, Don Deuster, (312) 566-1972.

SOMETHING FOR FIDO—I can relate to these folks. With a dog and cat in my household, I know what Helen DeWitt is talking about with her pet greeting card business.

DeWitt, a resident of Mundelein, and her sister and brother-in-law, Karen DeWitt and Bob Barber have a business of producing greeting cards that pets can send.

I usually get a Christmas gift from Barin and KayCee. No greeting cards yet, but maybe soon when they find out about DeWitt/Barber, the family business that produces pet greeting cards. A veterinary technician and owner of two dogs, Helen says she knows how many people feel about their pets—and the special place in their hearts for animals. These are the kind of people attracted to pet cards. They're part of our world—and so are pets.

Letters To The Editor

Voters Ignored

Editor:

We in America often point to our freedom and our right to vote as mainstays of our society. But does our vote really translate into action representing the majority in that vote? The answer is "no" when we speak of the Wauconda School District 118. Our community has voted down a tax referendum three times in the recent past, clearly telling the members of the school board that the community feels that they must make due with what they have in finances or restructure the resources they presently have at their disposal.

But because the school board didn't get the referendum passed, they went out and borrowed the money. It's legal, but why vote if the members of the school board are going to act like the politicians in Washington who know nothing of fiscal responsibility and would rather pass the burden of over-spending on to us or our children in the future?

Perhaps we can regain our vote by selecting people on the school board who will represent the people of Wauconda and not their own private careers. This opportunity is now coming up since there are openings to be filled on the school board. We urge all residents to go and vote for members who are going to work for the community and not themselves.

Life-Safety Sham

Editor:

Warren Township High School has been damaged by fire, not destroyed as the school board, administration, and media would like you to believe. 40,000 sq. ft. out of 195,000 sq. ft., or one-fifth of the school, is hardly destruction. Forty-eight remaining classrooms could be used today. William Thompson, regional superintendent of schools, did not condemn the school. It is costing the taxpayer $100,000 a month to rent a school that has only 42 classrooms.

There is only one plan - Plan E - that the school board could consider using life-safety means of securing funds under normal situations. The school building must be on the same site and equivalent in area (Ill. Rev. State Statutes, Supp. Ch. 122 paragraph 17-2.11). Plan E calls for 195,000 sq. ft. - Warren High School's area is 195,000 sq. ft.

Plan C, which the board favors to date, calls for 265,000 sq. ft., 70,000 sq. ft. more than the state statutes allow - almost double the square footage damaged by the fire (40,000 sq. ft.).

This is not a normal situation. Life-Safety funds should not enter into the picture other than as an attempt now by the school board and the administration to "muddy up the waters." These are fire-prevention and life-safety provisions, not fire damage recuperation provisions. The public is being taxed to pay insurance premiums to protect their property against loss from fire damage. If otherwise, why put out the dollars before you need it? Insurance monies will cover the restoration of that portion of Warren High School damaged by fire. Dr. Rundio, on record at a committee at a whole meeting called by the school board, as well as the insurance company, has made that statement.

Interruption coverage was available but the school board chose not to include it - the specifications state the coverage desired and the dollar amounts. The insurance companies bid on that. If Warren High School was so old and in such "shambles," "disrepair," "fire-trap," "dump" to name only a few of the adjectives given to our school, why didn't the school board and the administration see fit to include this coverage?

Insurance funds are available, thus disqualifying the use of life-safety funds to make Warren High operational again. Our students could and would have been back in school here at Warren for the start of this school year had the board followed a normal rational procedure instead of using the unfortunate situation of a fire to try to promote what this board and administration would like to have a new school. The delay can in no way be faulted against the insurance company.

Growth Costs People

Editor:

Recently there has been much in the paper about whether it is less costly for a community to buy large tracts of land which are proposed for development and let them remain fallow.

Many studies are beginning to show that it is less expensive to do just that; let us look at some of the conclusions that have been reached.

Harvey Molotch, formerly at the University of Chicago but now at the University of California at Santa Barbara, says in his widely published study of The City as a Growth Machine that: "...the weight of research evidence is that growth often costs existing residents more money. Evidently, at various population levels, points of diminishing returns are crossed such that additional increments lead to net revenue losses. A 1970 study for the city of Palo Alto, Calif., indicated that it was substantially cheaper for that city to acquire at full market value its foothill open space than to allow it to become an 'addition' to the tax base (Livingston and Blayney 1971). A study of Santa Barbara demonstrated that additional population growth would require higher property taxes, as well as higher utility costs (Applebaum et al. 1974). Similar results on the cost of growth have been obtained in studies at Boulder, Colo. (cited in Finkler 1972), and Ann Arbor, Mich. (Ann Arbor City Planning Department 1972). Systematic analyses of government costs as a function of city size and growth have been carried out under a number of methodologies, but the use of the units of analysis most appropriate for comparison (urban areas) yields the finding that the cost is directly related both to size of place and rate of growth. Especially significant are per capita police costs, which virtually all studies show to be positively related to both city size and rate of growth (see Applebaum et al. 1974; Applebaum 1976)."

The voters who would be affected by the costs of development in Libertyville are fortunate to have a chance to choose the way they wish to go by referendum.

Self Destruction

Editor:

It's both tragic and infuriating to watch one's community slowly kill itself.

But that's what Grayslake is doing - with the help of its realtors, mayor and "hometown newspaper" - in its selfish refusal to pass a desperately needed grade school referendum.

As a result, some of the best teachers have found jobs elsewhere (with more to follow); the superintendent has fled; art, band, chorus, sports and extracurricular activities have been eliminated; and the school system sinks deeper into debt. For the children, school is becoming a drab place indeed.

Noticed all the FOR SALE signs on lawns? Families concerned about their children's education and cultural development are moving away in droves. But perhaps that's what Mayor Schroeder secretly desires - after all, it'll be relatively easy to govern a ghost town.

Examine Lobbying Tie In Censure Of Graham

by JOHN STEINKE
(Political Columnist)

Lake County Republican Chairman Bob Neal persuaded the party's central committee to censure Libertyville Twp. Supervisor Mike Graham for supporting Democratic candidates in the 1982 elections. Graham was condemned for his alleged party disloyalty as a GOP precinct committeeman.

Three years ago, Graham endorsed the Democratic gubernatorial team of Adlai E. Stevenson III and Grace Mary Stern of Highland Park. Stern had served for 12 years as Lake County Clerk before she became the first woman ever slated for statewide office by the Illinois Democratic Party.

"Maverick Mike" also expressed the hope that Lake County voters would elect at least one countywide Democrat in 1982. At the same time, Graham was running for the Lake County Board on the Republican ticket from District 5, which includes Libertyville, Vernon and Warren townships. He repudiated his Republican running mate Bob Depke of Warren Twp. who he characterized as the "James Watt" of Lake County.

Both Graham and Depke were elected to the County Board in 1982. Graham was elected to a two-year term, and Depke to a four-year term. Last year, Graham was defeated for re-election to the county board in the Republican primary. He lost to newcomer Andrea Moore and incumbent Jim Doolan, both of Libertyville. Doolan beat Graham by 84 votes.

Graham has announced that he will compete with incumbents Bob Depke and Eugene Martin of Libertyville in the 1986 Republican primary for two positions on the Lake County Board from District 5. Martin was appointed to the County Board this summer to replace Priscilla Richardson. Mrs. Richardson resigned from office in order to return to her former homestead in Pennsylvania.

Graham has claimed that his belated censure was inspired by his successful lobbying to defeat a bill, which would have eliminated the township's prerogative to conduct a public referendum on open space. He wanted to preserve the right of Libertyville Twp. voters to pass judgment on the annexation of the 1,300-acre Cuneo property.

Commentary

Graham credited State Rep. Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park) with defeating the proposed legislation, which was supported by the Lake County Republican Party establishment. It raises the question of whether or not GOP chairman Bob Neal recommended the condemnation of Graham to punish him for his past party disloyalty or his recent Springfield lobbying on environmental matters.

In his response to GOP leader Neal's censure resolution, Graham contended that "the censorship coming on the heels of a hotly disputed political battle in Springfield lends to suspect." Graham suggested that "Republican Senator (Adeline) Geo-Karis, slow-blooming State Representative (Bob) Churchill and your uncle Mayor (Paul) Neal of Libertyville, himself no political featherweight, suffered a stinging political defeat. The defeat was the result of an ill-conceived bill designed to stifle the voters of Libertyville Twp. on a public referendum question concerning open space. I also suspect that the stunning legislative upset engineered by former Democratic Lake County Clerk, now State Representative Grace Mary Stern, made that loss even more galling."

Sweet Adelines Singing Sweet

As the curtains opened on Sept. 14, the audience sat back and enjoyed the performance of the Chain O'Lakes Chorus, Sweet Adelines, as they toured the birthplace of jazz, singing from Spirituals to the Blues.

Basin and Rampart St. was the perfect setting for the rendition of "Summertime" by Mame McCormack (soloist) and accompaniment. The "McHenry County Chord Company" and "Voices In A Chord" were a delightful feature of the show. Special appearance by the "Chicago Natural Gas" brought down the house with their unique barbershop singing and funny jokes.

The conclusion of the show was by the chorus singing their 1985 third place winning songs, "Lonesome Girl In Town" and "Jazz Baby," plus their 1986 competition package of "April Fool" and "Gonna Be Some Changes Made."

"I've heard of the Chain O'Lakes Chapter, and thought of visiting their rehearsals. Now that I've seen them perform, I definitely would like to become a Sweet Adeline," commented Bernida Johnson of Antioch.

Chain O'Lakes Chapter, Sweet Adelines, is always interested in teaching new members to sing four part harmony, barbershop style. No formal training is required, only the desire to sing.

Rehearsals, under the direction of Jim Arns, meet Thursday nights, 8 p.m. at the Mundelein High School. Women 16 and over are welcome. For more information call: (312) 356-7528, (312) 362-0886 or (815) 338-2475.

Prost! Oktoberfest Partytime German Or Not!

by GLORIA DAVIS

When Americans think of Oktoberfest, visions of juicy bratwursts searing on the grill and German peasants, garbed in Lederhosen, dancing and yodeling to ethnic music, pass before their eyes.

And rightly so since that is the premise on which this ethnic festival is based, a premise which is celebrated in the United States, not only by German-Americans, but by anyone who loves a good time.

This is the longest celebrated ethnic holiday in the U.S., probably only outdone in popularity and liquor consumption by the real and would-be Irishmen that frolic on St. Patrick's Day.

Oktoberfest is celebrated by organizations, restaurants and bars, from the middle of September through the month of October.

The first Oktoberfest was held in Munich, Germany, in 1810, in honor of the wedding of Crown Prince Ludwig of Bavaria and to this day Munich is the home of Oktoberfest.

Every year, 10 million visitors from Germany and abroad descend upon Munich for the biggest beer bash in the world.

Giant beer tents full of long tables are to be found everywhere, ale flows freely, served by authentically costumed peasants and tall beer steins are swung in tempo to the raucous Bavarian music that marks the month-long festival.

Last year, there were 100 brawls, 50 "Bierleichen," beer corpses (those who pass out from drinking too much of the foaming liquid) and the Red Cross administered first aid to 1,700 partiers.

Maintains of food abound, surrounded by carnival rides and gambling.

For would-be Oktoberfest celebrants who find the trip to Munich a little much, Germanic Milwaukee is a mecca for those who love brats and beer and Bavarian music. The Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce would be the place to go for those earnestly planning to "frolic like they do in Frankfurt."

In southeastern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, the German-American Club of that area held a huge celebration two weeks ago at the VFW Hall in Antioch, as did the patrons of the Black Bear Chalet in Ingelside.

The Wunder Bar on Rte. 83, south of Antioch, where a violinist plays German music every Sunday and Monday evening while customers wolf down delicious Bavarian dishes, a German guitarist will play every Wednesday evening in October.

Oktoberfest is also a big thing at the Bavarian Hofbrau House in Caledonia, Wis., just down Hwy. 1-94 from Kenosha.

That party started last Friday and will go on every weekend through October, complete with original Bavarian folk dancers.

Lots and lots of German cuisine is on the menu, even a special Oktoberfest plate that features bratwurst, Kassler Ripchen (smoked pork loin) and gallons of imported Munich Oktoberfest Beer on tap.

Andres Steak House in Richmond will have its special Oktober party on Sunday, Oct. 13, from 2 to 7 p.m., when a special German menu will be offered along with the music of Karl Ratzer's Band.

So even if the name is O'Grady, everyone can be German in October, don a pair of Lederhosen, grab and beer and "Prost or prosit," let's drink to everyone's health, but as my German grandmother used to say, "Here's to you, but it's not to you, it's to someone I like better than you!"

If he was here, who should be here, I wouldn't be drinking with you!"

The use of HCG in a weight reduction program was originally researched and developed by Dr. A.T.W. Simeons of Rome, Italy over 30 years ago. Since Dr. Simeons' early work, HCG has been prescribed in Europe for weight reduction in both men and women. The program has been successfully used in the U.S. for the last 15 years.

Indications: HCG is not approved by FDA as safe and effective for weight control. There is no substantial evidence that it increases weight loss beyond that resulting from caloric restriction, that it causes a more attractive "normal" distribution of fat, or that it decreases the hunger and discomfort associated with caloric restricted diets.

Grooming Benefits More Ways Than One

by JAN BURDICK

Why should women wear makeup? This is a question asked by many people from many different walks of life.

Research has shown that attractive, well groomed people are generally viewed positively and believed by others to be happy, sensitive, interesting, warm, poised, sociable and have good characters.

This does not mean that you have to be beautiful to be well-liked or successful. It does suggest, however, that good grooming and attention to one's appearance will make you appear more attractive to yourself and to others.

Good grooming habits, especially the proper use of makeup, can be the key to success in the job market. The characteristic that impresses people the most when meeting anyone from a job applicant to a blind date, is appearance.

Studies have shown that job applicants who use makeup and hair styling are not only rated more attractive, secure, poised and confident, but have a greater chance of being hired and paid a higher starting salary.

Using makeup and hair-styling not only improved a woman's chance of getting a job—it helps change the way she perceives herself. The feeling of self confidence from proper grooming techniques helps the job applicant develop a better self image and present a more assertive, polished image to the interviewer.

A well-groomed appearance is also an essential element for the "active-lifestyle" woman—hard working, hard-playing and hard running—and usually among the first to cross the finish line in any activity she undertakes.

In conclusion, the appropriate and effective use of cosmetics and grooming products will help a woman maximize her appearance, enhance her effectiveness and give her the confidence that will make a positive impression on her colleagues and friends.

Whether on the job or at play, makeup can be the key to success for today's modern woman.

Shop Features Fashions

by STACIE ELLIS

For those shoppers who have been searching for an alternative to the run-of-the-mill clothing store, Old Volo Country Fashions is the place for you.

Nancy Howard, a resident of Northbrook, opened this new clothing boutique on Sept. 1 at the Old Volo Complex. She was attracted to the location because of her interest in the auto museum. She then decided to open her shop there because of the casual atmosphere of the country shopping center. A steady traffic of customers and browsers lasts year round at the Old Volo Complex. Business picks up during the auto show season, which begins in the spring and ends on Labor Day.

Howard's shop is small and casual. "I wanted it little," she said. "In most of the shops today, there are so many racks that it's intimidating."

The inventory at Howard's shop offers clothing for the all ages, except teens. Howard said she doesn't plan on having teens' clothing because they already have such a wide variety to choose from and their fashions change too quickly.

Don't let the name Old Volo Country Fashions mislead you: Howard's shop is a "fashion shop in a country location." Traditional wedding gowns, party dresses, and formals at reasonable prices, ranging from size five to 18, are the main items on Howard's racks.

Other specialty items are sweaters, jean jackets for babies, t-tops, and 'his' and 'her' cowboy shirts. "I'm aiming for something a little different that people won't spot anywhere else," she said.

So far, Howard has had a steady flow of customers. She has each customer fill out a survey of what styles he/she is looking for because she is "testing the water right now." These surveys have pointed to a uniformity in consumers' clothing desires, which won't be revealed until they are presented on her racks.

Store hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the week, closed alternately on Mondays and Wednesdays, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends. The Old Volo Complex is located on Rte. 120 in Volo, west of Rte. 12. Stop in for a refreshing alternative to state-of-the-art shopping.

Less Hungry Treasury Means Stable Sailing

Stock market prices are falling and U.S. Treasury yields appear to be rising.

A great change is in the wind — right? Wrong!

Despite the apparent change between this week and last, nothing really has shifted in the market for the last 60 days. As forecast earlier, the economy is moving along slow and steady.

*Fed. Reserve release, week ended 6/28.

Results of the weekly Meyers Report survey of financial institutions across the U.S. show that the yields on certificates of deposit at U.S. banks and savings associations also moved less than 0.25 percentage points over the last 60 days.

U.S. Avg. Certificate Yields

	This Week	June Avg.	Percent change
90-day	7.41%	7.24%	up 0.18%
180-day	7.83	7.76%	up 0.07
1-year	8.29	8.24%	up 0.05
2-year	8.71	8.77%	dn 0.06
3-year	9.66	9.66%	No change
5-year	9.85	9.75%	up 0.10
10-year	9.90	9.88%	up 0.02

However, the economy moves steadily ahead:

* U.S. housing starts for the month of August rose 6.2 percent, the highest seasonally adjusted increase since March. Housing industry analysts are pleased with the gain, which reversed a preliminary estimated decline of 2.4 percent. (Government statisticians were wrong again.)

* Consumer borrowing in July rose by $6.25 billion, a healthy gain for a traditionally slow summer month.

SAVINGS: The average interest rate on money market accounts held steady at 6.88 percent last week. Six-month certificate yields rose slightly last week, to 7.61 percent, while 30-month money market certificates remained steady at 8.56 percent.

Fixed-rate 18-month IRA rates rose this week to 8.23 percent while variable rate IRA rates posted a slight decline, to 7.85 percent.

LOANS: Nationwide, the average interest rate on conventional 30-year mortgages with 20 percent down payments rose to 12.23 percent from 12.14 percent a week earlier. Adjustable-rate mortgages with annual rate adjustments rose to 9.98 percent last week.

This week, 36-month new-car loans averaged 13.29 percent at financial institutions across the country, while rates on 48-month auto loans averaged 13.07 percent.

FORECAST: For the balance of the year America's economic indicators should be getting stronger, making believers of the worst of the sane doomsayers.

Interest rates for the balance of September should show only slight increases, less than 0.15 percentage points. However, in October rates should climb, possibly by as much as 0.50 percentage points.

If you are a borrower, do it now. If you are a saver, wait for higher rates.

Here's one major reason:

Congress is in the midst of raising the debt ceiling to the $2-trillion level. Until then the Treasury will be looking for less money. Analysts expected that at the next auction the Treasury would be offering $14 billion in notes.

However, this estimate has been reduced to $9 billion, a 43 percent cut in planned government borrowing. If the Treasury is borrowing less there will be less upward pressure on interest rates.

But in October Uncle Sam will have his checkbook out once again, borrowing and competing with the American consumer and business for available loans.

Wide interest rate swings reported lately by the nation's press and economists are in fact non-existent. Since June, Treasury-bill yields have moved less than 0.25 percentage points in either direction.

TREASURY YIELDS

Shop Stocked Top To Bottom

by SUSAN MONTGOMERY

Shopping around for home decorating or remodeling materials can be a headache for do-it-yourself homeowners and professional contractors alike. But a one-stop visit to the Floor-to-Ceiling store in Mundelein could be the answer to end these shopping woes.

"This is one of the few stores where you can get full design service, wallpaper, cabinets, counter tops, plumbing and complete installation," said owner Ed Klein.

"About 50 percent of our business is with homeowners who want to do the work themselves. We do provide customers full or partial installation services if they want help," he said. "A lot of people want us to do the technical work and then they do the rest."

"We do offer design services and help lay out the whole house at no extra service charge," he said.

The store, which first opened in May, is a franchise of the Floor-to-Ceiling distributors in Minnesota.

"FCS distributors used to be a part of the old Plywood Minnesota," said sales manager Dave Coldiron.

"When the owner of that company sold off the Illinois stores, a group got together to buy the businesses."

Seven other Floor-to-Ceiling stores are located in Elgin, Aurora, DeKalb, Woodstock, Freeport and Kankakee.

A 10-year veteran in the field of home decorating and remodeling, Klein worked in the kitchen department at Sears before joining Floor-to-Ceiling distributors four years ago.

Coldiron left Plywood Minnesota when he began working for Floor-to-Ceiling.

In its first four months, the Mundelein store has done "extremely well," said Coldiron.

"Usually the heavy remodeling seasons are from fall through spring, but we've had a very full summer," he said.

Coldiron said that Klein, a McHenry resident, did a survey in the area to determine whether such a store was needed.

"Mundelein is an older town in the middle of new building construction. Also, there are a lot of old houses here that are up for remodeling," he said.

The Floor-to-Ceiling store also serves the neighboring communities of Libertyville and Vernon Hills, Coldiron said.

Whittier, Foy Bright Spots On Rainy Night

It's not even the middle of the season yet, but already Carmel's Corsairs feel like they're at the crossroads.

Varsity Coach Jim Rejc is preparing his charges for a tough road trip Saturday, Sept. 28, to Marist on Chicago's far South Side and wondering what can be done to turn things around after suffering the third consecutive defeat.

Now that Joliet Catholic is in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, Marist no longer is the league's perennial football powerhouse.

But Rejc knows that Marist will be all that the Corsairs can handle—and then some.

Defeat No. 3 was administered by St. Patrick last Friday night at Mundelein, a 28-12 thrashing that could have been worse had not two Shamrock touchdowns been nullified by penalties.

The Corsairs actually were in the game into the third quarter, trailing only 14-12, before a sagging defense permitted St. Pat to cross their goal line four times, two of which counted.

Carmel couldn't stop St. Pat's rugged fullback, John Bellizzi, an old-fashioned two-way player, and they couldn't fathom quarterback Peter Kohn, who kept Corsair defenders off balance with his passing and keeper runs.

Carmel's air power, which was expected to produce ESCC parity in 1985, was evident only in the first half when senior quarterback John Terlap hit Wildwood's Rod Whittier with picture-perfect TD strikes of 27 and 29 yards, only the second one counting because of a holding penalty.

The 6-0 lead was short-lived. A couple of scoring plunges by Bellizzi gave the Shamrocks a lead they never relinquished in the rain-spattered night.

Corsair partisans were heartened early in the third quarter when Chuck Foy's blast from the one-foot line made it 14-12.

Mike Ahern's 64 yard return of Jerry Maloney's kick off followed by a 33 yard scoring romp by Bellizzi left the Corsairs stunned and St.

Pat in possession of a commanding 21-12 advantage.

Jim White's touchdown for St. Pat in the fourth stanza was simply icing as Carmel struggled unsuccessfully to catch up through the air. The Shamrocks were well aware of that.

Carmel's sophs notched their fourth straight victory 27-6 on a balanced attack featuring the running of Donell Foster, who tallied twice, and Jeff Zgonina, who set up a successful bootleg by quarterback Inglesides' Mike King.

Chris Kwasigroh of Wauconda hauled in a pass from King for another score. Rob Scott of Zion booted an extra point as coach Mike Fitzgibbons' squad held on to first place with ease.

Marian Central Defeat Skyhawks In Close Game

by KAREN WILTBERGER

The Johnsburg Skyhawks invaded Marian Central Friday night and came out on the short end of a 19-16 score.

Marian Central took a 6-0 first-quarter lead on a 68-yard touchdown run (extra point blocked). Then Marian Central intercepted a Skyhawk pass on the Skyhawk's 33-yard line late in the second quarter and scored on a short drive to take a 12-0 halftime lead (extra point blocked again).

Johnsburg came back in the third quarter on a 25-yard pass from Frank Husak to Pete Switzer to shorten the gap to 12-7. (Brian Frazier kicked the extra point). A safety after a fumbled snap from center left the Skyhawks down 12-9 at the end of the third quarter.

The Skyhawks took an early fourth-quarter lead 16-12 on a 35-yard run by Dan Stefka and Brian Frazier's extra point.

Johnsburg recovered a Marian Central fumble on the Skyhawk 25-yard line and were held turning the ball over to Marian Central, who then drove down the field to score on a 5-yard quarterback rollout to take a 19-16 lead with less than four minutes to play. An ensuing fumble at midfield ended any chance for an upset by the Skyhawks.

The Skyhawks will battle the Round Lake Panthers in a homecoming game at Johnsburg Saturday.

"If we play to our potential, we can beat Round Lake," said head coach Mike Roberts. "We have to get up on them quick, and force them to pass."

Wilson Living His Own Father's Dream

Dave Wilson believes he is living a dream as a college student and wide receiver on the Illinois State University football team, but it's a dream not totally his own.

Wilson's father, Tom Wilson, is part of that dream, and the younger Wilson is proud of being able to do what time and circumstances kept his father from doing.

"My dad was a very good high school quarterback," said Illinois State's most experienced receiver. "He couldn't go to college because he had to go to work instead. So, in a way, I'm living his dream," he added.

Wilson, who starred at Mundelein High School before going to Illinois State, claims that getting to know more about his father brought the two closer.

"Like a lot of guys, I didn't have the greatest relationship with my father when I was in high school," said Wilson.

"But now we talk on the phone about every other day. It's nice. He helps me, but he never tells me what to do or what decisions to make. He gives me confidence," he said.

Wilson, a senior, needed a confidence boost prior to the start of the current season. He suffered a shoulder injury midway through the 1984 season, missing half of 1984 and all of spring practice in 1985.

"I didn't know if I could come back and play," said Wilson. "I still was uncertain if I'd be able to dive for balls and block like I used to. But my dad told me that I was a natural competitor, and I'd stop worrying about the shoulder once the games started. He was right."

With seven receptions in his first two games, Wilson appears to be on the way to his best season at ISU. The Redbirds' head coach, Bob Otolowski, saluted Wilson's attachment to his family and his growth as an individual.

That ability to go to college and to play football didn't happen for Tom Wilson, and Dave Wilson realizes that he can fulfill his father's dream along with his own.

Grant Loses 7-6

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Marengo scored its only touchdown on a 2-yard run by Kevin Schelton in the first quarter to stake Marengo to a 7-0 halftime lead.

The Bulldogs came back in the third quarter with a 15-yard touchdown pass from Marc Borton to Joe Pokrywka. But the kick for the extra point failed to finish the scoring for the evening 7-6.

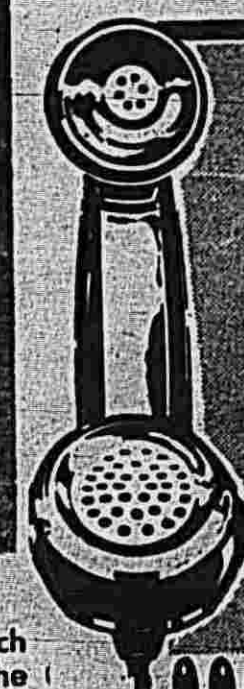

Head coach Mike Rogowski praised the defensive line led by Dan Robinson, Bob Wilson and Mark Timm, but said the offense was counting the touchdowns before they reached the end zone.

The Bulldogs will be trying to get on the track when they battle at a homecoming game at Lake Zurich Saturday.

Panthers Share Lead, Warhawks In Cellar

The Round Lake Panthers have a share of the Northwest Suburban Conference lead, while the North Chicago Warhawks are still looking for their first victory.

The Panthers have won their first two conference contests, beating Grant 3-0 in a defensive struggle and Grayslake 14-8 for a victorious homecoming.

North Chicago is presently 0-4 in the Northwest Suburban Conference, coming off a tough 5-0 defeat to the Antioch Sequoits Sept. 21.

Both teams will try to improve, or stay hot in Round Lake's case, this weekend when they take the field.

The Panthers will go up against Johnsburg away at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 28, while the Warhawks will battle the Stevenson Patriots at home Sept. 28, starting at 2 p.m.

Against Grayslake, the Panthers, tied with Marian Central for the conference lead, held the Rams to just 30 yards rushing.

The defense seems to be carrying the Panthers, shutting out Grant Sept. 13 and only giving up one touchdown against Grayslake.

Round Lake led at the half by a score of 7-0 on a 21-yard run by Jim DeLeon. Grayslake came back in the third quarter to grab an 8-7 lead, but the Panther responded with a seven-yard run by Troy Haines for the 14-8 win.

The Warhawks, on the other hand, are having some problems getting the ball into the end zone.

They moved the ball well against Antioch, gaining nine first downs and 127 total yards, but couldn't seem to get any points on the board, losing 5-0.

The Warhawks' leading runner, Michael Wright, missed the game due to injuries, but Victor Earl (71 yards) and Corey Franklin (63 yards) picked up the slack.

Antioch scored all five of its points in the second quarter on a safety and a 33-yard field goal.

The Sweep

Blue Devils Win Against Mustangs

by DON DE GRAZIA

The Warren Blue Devil's varsity football team improved its record to 3-1 on Sept. 20 with a 16-12 victory over the Mundelein Mustangs.

Warren scored twice in the first quarter. The first touchdown came on Warren's first set of downs when tailback Pekeda Bennett scored on a seven-yard run.

The second came on a touchdown pass from Dave Sebastian to Brian Jarrell. That was the extent of Warren's scoring aside from a fourth quarter safety with 18 seconds left in the game.

"We really played two different ballgames out there," said head coach Reggie Hughes. "The first half was all Warren and we executed well. The second half of the game was totally dominated by Mundelein."

"We were fortunate enough to score two touchdowns quickly and we were fortunate enough to hang on at the end," Hughes said.

Hughes singled out defensive ends Jim Rung and Rick Kenyon as having played superior games.

Hughes also mentioned J.R. Dollenmaier who returned from a back injury this week as "a force to be reckoned with."

Rung, who was involved in forcing the safety that pushed Warren to 16 points said, although he was pleased with the team win, there was great room for improvement.

"The last two games we've been tackling very poorly and if we don't work hard this week and start tackling Zion is going to run us over this Friday," Rung said.

"Coach Hughes said it was winning ugly but he said he'll take the win," Kenyon said.

Although the Blue Devils managed to a in 'ugly' against Mundelein Hughes says that there will be no room for mistakes against Zion.

"Zion has a good quarterback, two great runningbacks and a big offensive line. They're all the things I'd like us to be," Hughes commented.

"I watched them play against Fenton. I think Fenton has a pretty good defense and Zion just ran at will. When the score was 33-0 at halftime it started to look like Fenton had a bad defense or Zion had an outstanding offense," Hughes said. Hughes believes that the latter is true.

Sequoits Beat Warhawks With Safety, Field Goal

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Sequoit varsity gridmen are getting prepared to try and stop Fenton's passing game when Antioch challenges the Bison's on their home turf during their homecoming weekend on Sept. 28.

The Sequoits are expecting one of Fenton's usual bruising games pushed by their hard tackles. A win or loss could be crucial to the rest of Antioch's season, since this may be one of their last chances to get back in the conference competition.

After beating North Chicago, 5-0, on Sept. 21, by a safety and a field goal, Antioch will have to keep on with its strong defensive game and correct the offensive blunders that kept the Sequoits from scoring more in that game.

The only scoring in the game came in the second quarter. With 2:07 left before halftime, the Sequoit safety snapped one over the head of the punter into the end zone.

With just two seconds left before the first half ended, Sequoit Brian Pankauskas sent home a 33 yard field goal.

Though the playing of Antioch's offensive core left much to be desired, the Sequoits employed a sound defense in holding the Warhawks completely scoreless throughout the game.

Sequit Coach Steve Wapon lauded the play of linebackers Matt Humphreys, Tom Homan, Bob Johnson and Bob Cord (responsible for recovering the fumble that led to the field goal).

"We ran a lot of plays and added-up a lot of yardage, but we made too many critical mistakes when we got deep into Warhawk territory," said Wapon.

Offensive mistakes like having 12 men on the field and fumbles are high on Wapon's correction list.

Wapon was happy with offensive back Pat Bruks who had his best game of the season so far, carrying 25 times to gain 152 of the total of 172 yards gained by the Sequoits.

Young GOP Prexy Backing Venita

Wauconda Village Clerk Venita McConnel has received the endorsement of Charles R. Killian, president of the Lake County Young Republicans, in her bid for the GOP nomination for Lake County Clerk in next year's elections.

I know that she is a dedicated and tireless candidate and that as county clerk she will put the interests of the people first."

Killian has served as a Republican precinct committeeman in both Libertyville and Waukegan Townships. Last year, he was the Lake County Youth Coordinator for the Reagan-Bush 84 campaign.

McConnel and County Board Dist. 4 Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler of Ingleside are waging a tightly contested race for the Republican nomination for Lake County Clerk.

Polar Species Can't Tolerate Temps

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Often when someone thinks about the polar region, the North Pole comes to mind. Kids believe that good old Santa can be found there. However, there are two polar regions.

The Arctic is found north. It has seasons, even though the summer is very short. Vegetation can be found there in the summer. It never gets warmer than 50 degrees.

The Antarctic ice is found south and all year it is the same. There isn't a chance of seasons and there isn't any vegetation.

Both of the regions have ice, but the Arctic has it mostly on the water and the Antarctic has it mostly on the land. Wind might blow up to 100 miles an hour on this land. Both have six months of day light and six months of darkness.

As you might already be able to tell, life is very different here for the animals that call this home. Warm-blooded animals have body systems and behavior problems that help them to survive constant near-freezing temperatures. In fact, many polar species can not tolerate higher temperatures.

Some of them will migrate to warmer regions. Most of them have insulating layers of fur or feathers that pocket air for warmth. Some have under-snow dens as the temperatures are warmer under the snow. Babies are born in seasons that give them the best chance for survival. Many have coats that change color with the seasons to help protect them.

Seals and penguins have blubber or fat. The seal has up to a three-inch layer of it, and this helps to keep him warm. The seal and walrus are very awkward on land. In fact, it is believed that seals may have been land animals about 30 million years ago.

Seals spend most of their lives in the water. They return to land to molt and to give birth. The north region has the ringed seal, the banded seal and the bearded seal.

Pet-Wise

There is only one species of walrus. A male walrus can be 12 feet long and weigh 2,700 pounds. His tusks can reach three feet.

He uses his tusks for digging ice, as weapons, and to rake the seabed for shellfish.

The polar bear is the biggest and strongest predator living in the region. He can weigh about 1,000 pounds and when he is on his hind feet he can be eight or nine feet long. This bear may live up to 40 years.

Did you know that the polar bear spends much of his time in the water and swimming out to sea? He is a very good swimmer. He will mate in April and birth comes in mid-winter. The cubs are born in a snowdrift den. They are less than a foot long and under two pounds. Their mother will bring them out in about three months. The female bear will breed every three years unless she loses her cubs. Only about five to eighteen thousand remain.

The arctic fox will turn scavenger when prey is scarce. His fur is white by winter and brown by summer. Collared lemmings turn white in the winter, too. The short-tailed weasel is red-brown with his summer coat and called an ermine in the winter when he has a white coat.

The wolf mates for life. There are also ground squirrels in the region.

The caribou is the only species of deer in which both male and female have antlers. They make two journeys a year, about 700 miles, between summer and winter grounds. They'll average about 100 miles a day.

The musk ox makes me think of a buffalo. The calves are born in April and May. These animals will make a circle of defense and put the calves in the middle for protection when they are threatened.

Most of the arctic birds are migrants and not residents. The snowy owl must hunt by day and night. Most owls hunt only by night. With the seasons being six months long, he must adjust.

The south polar waters have elephant seals. They are called this because of a short trunk that hangs over the mouth. One can be 20 ft. long and weigh up to 3 1/2 tons. When a pup is born in October, he will weigh about 80 pounds. They were nearly to the point of extinction from being hunted for their oil, but now they're increasing in number once again.

The leopard seal is also found in the south polar waters. He will catch penguins and the young of other seals for his food.

There are 18 species of penguins in the south waters. There were penguins in the southern oceans about 50 million years ago before the ice cap formed. They come to shore only to breed, raise young and molt. The largest penguin is the emperor.

GRANT TOWNSHIP ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 1985

OFFICIAL ASSESSMENT LIST:

This publication is the official notice to property owners of the 1985 changes in assessed value of land and improvements in the Township of Grant. The 1985 assessments as published herein are those determined by the Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments.

It is the duty of the Assessor to assess all taxable property on a uniform basis of valuation so that the assessed values of the various properties are a just and equal assessment of such properties according to law.

The assessment roll recording the values of property determines only the distribution of the total tax load among the individual property owners. The assessor of the Township and/or the Supervisor of Assessments has no control over the amount of taxes levied, nor the public expenditures. The amount of these assessed values does not determine the amount of your tax bill. The established tax rate does that. The Assessor does not make the rate; he merely finds the value of your property.

EQUALIZATION

The following printed assessments, as well as all other assessments in the Township, are shown at 33.33% of market value, having been equalized to that level by the Supervisor of Assessments, who has applied a factor of 1.0160 to all values except those assessed under the provisions of Sec. 20e, 20g-1, and 44.1 of the Revenue Act of 1939, as amended.

To determine the market value of your property, add the total of the land and total of the buildings and divide the result by 0.3333. If it appears that the resulting number is higher than the market value of the property you may be over-assessed. If the resulting number is less than your opinion of market value, the assessment may be low.

ARRANGEMENT OF LIST

If you live in an incorporated area (city or village), your property is listed under the name of your city or village which will be in alphabetical order. Each street within the city or village is also arranged in alphabetical order. Property owners living on the same street will be listed as follows:

First-vacant property or improved property with no street number
Second-property with street number listed in numerical order (may be approximate)

If you live in an unincorporated area, your property is listed alphabetically by post office and street name. Then, property without street numbers will be listed first followed by numbered properties in numerical order.

INFORMATION ON ASSESSMENTS

Any property owner who has any question in regard to the assessment of his property should call the local Township Assessor's office. This publication does not reflect reductions for Homestead Exemptions or Veterans Exemption. Note that land value and improvement value appear separately and should be added together to arrive at a total assessed value. Certain of the values published will have been reduced by a Homestead Improvement Exemption, which under present law the reduction in assessed value could be as much as $10,000 below the actual assessment. These values are subject to a State adjustment factor certified to the County Clerk by the Department of Revenue. Any property owner who objects to the amount of his assessment should file a complaint in writing with the Board of Review from June 1, to September 10, 1985, or until thirty (30) days after publication, whichever is later. Complaint forms may be obtained by telephoning 669-6609 or by written request to the Supervisor of Assessments, County Building, Waukegan, Illinois 60085-4339.

Questions regarding the grid system used in determining address numbers should be directed to the Lake County Map Department, whose telephone number is 689-6373.

Meet The Grass Lake School Board Candidates

A public question and answer session with candidates seeking elected positions on the Grass Lake Elementary School District No. 36 Board of Education will be held at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium of Grass Lake School on Oct. 24.

This event will provide voters the opportunity to meet candidates and gather information that will help them make their voting decisions in the upcoming elections. The citizens organizing the event are trying to collect questions school district residents might wish to ask at the question and answer session. Those wishing to submit questions are asked to drop them off at Grass Lake School, 2717 West Grass Lake Rd., Antioch. Questions must be submitted by Oct. 4.

Library Book Sale

The Antioch Library Friends will sponsor a book sale at the Antioch Township Library Saturday, Sept. 26 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

More than 2,500 books of a wide range of topics will cost anywhere between 5 cents and $1.

This is the first sale the library has ever sponsored. The proceeds will go toward making improvements within the library.

You Decide

Despite a show of need, Skidmore said other programs and space have priority in the district, which has had a deficit of about $150,000 each year for the last two years and costs considerably below average for the county. Skidmore also said he doesn't want to add new programs if it means harming existing programs or building up a larger deficit.

So the fate of the programs lie in the hands of the community.

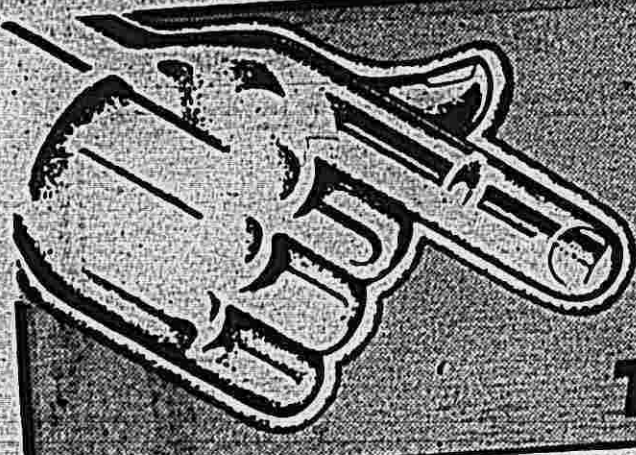

The Dist. 34 School Board has taken the issue under its wing for study. Skidmore said if the board determines that the programs appear to be worthwhile additions to the community, they would be put on a public referendum in 1986.

It all boils down to tax increases—an estimated 15-cent tax rate increase would accompany the possible referendum, Skidmore said.

And down the road if the full-day kindergarten and pre-school are what the community decide upon, the programs would be implemented the fall of 1987.

American International Plans Medical Compound

Plans are being made by American International Hospital in Zion to create for one day a huge medical compound similar to the one that was in the television program M*A*S*H to be used as a health fair free to the public.

The fair will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19, to provide medical information and many different examinations for the entire family in an enjoyable environment. The Compound will be in Shiloh Park at 26th St. just west of Sheridan Rd., in north suburban Zion.

There will be up to 10 large tents on the grounds. One will be used as a mess hall where lunch will be served at cost and nutritional information will be available. Other tents will include an operating room, shower, latrine, VIP tent, Officers Club, medical and M*A*S*H films. A squawk box for announcements and the playing of M*A*S*H music and other songs of that era will be operating.

In addition there are expected to be army medical helicopters, Jeeps, ambulances, an emergency room, flags, clowns and many other items. Doctors and nurses wearing fatigues and scrubs will be present to answer medical questions. Scrubs will be available for sale at cost.

There will also be first aid contests and many other activities that are being developed for this particular health day sponsored by the hospital as an enjoyable family event designed to improve the health of those several thousand people expected to attend. The hospital last year sponsored a smaller version of this kind of medical theme.

Seniors To Gather

All area senior citizens are invited to participate in the first annual "Tournament of Seniors," to be held from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., on Sept. 27 at the Lincoln Center, 200 W. Maple in Mundelein.

The tournament, which is jointly sponsored by the Lincoln Center, the Elia Twp. Senior Center and the Community Senior Center in Libertyville, is a special day of food, fun and games.

The day's events will include friendly competition in horseshoes, relay and scooter racing, hoola hoops, volleyball, pseudo-bowling, lawn jarts, badminton, pool, ping-pong, and pie, cookie and cake baking.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners in each category.

Wheaton Graduate

His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Lloyd and Mary Caffrey of 29 Cowles St., Devon, Conn.

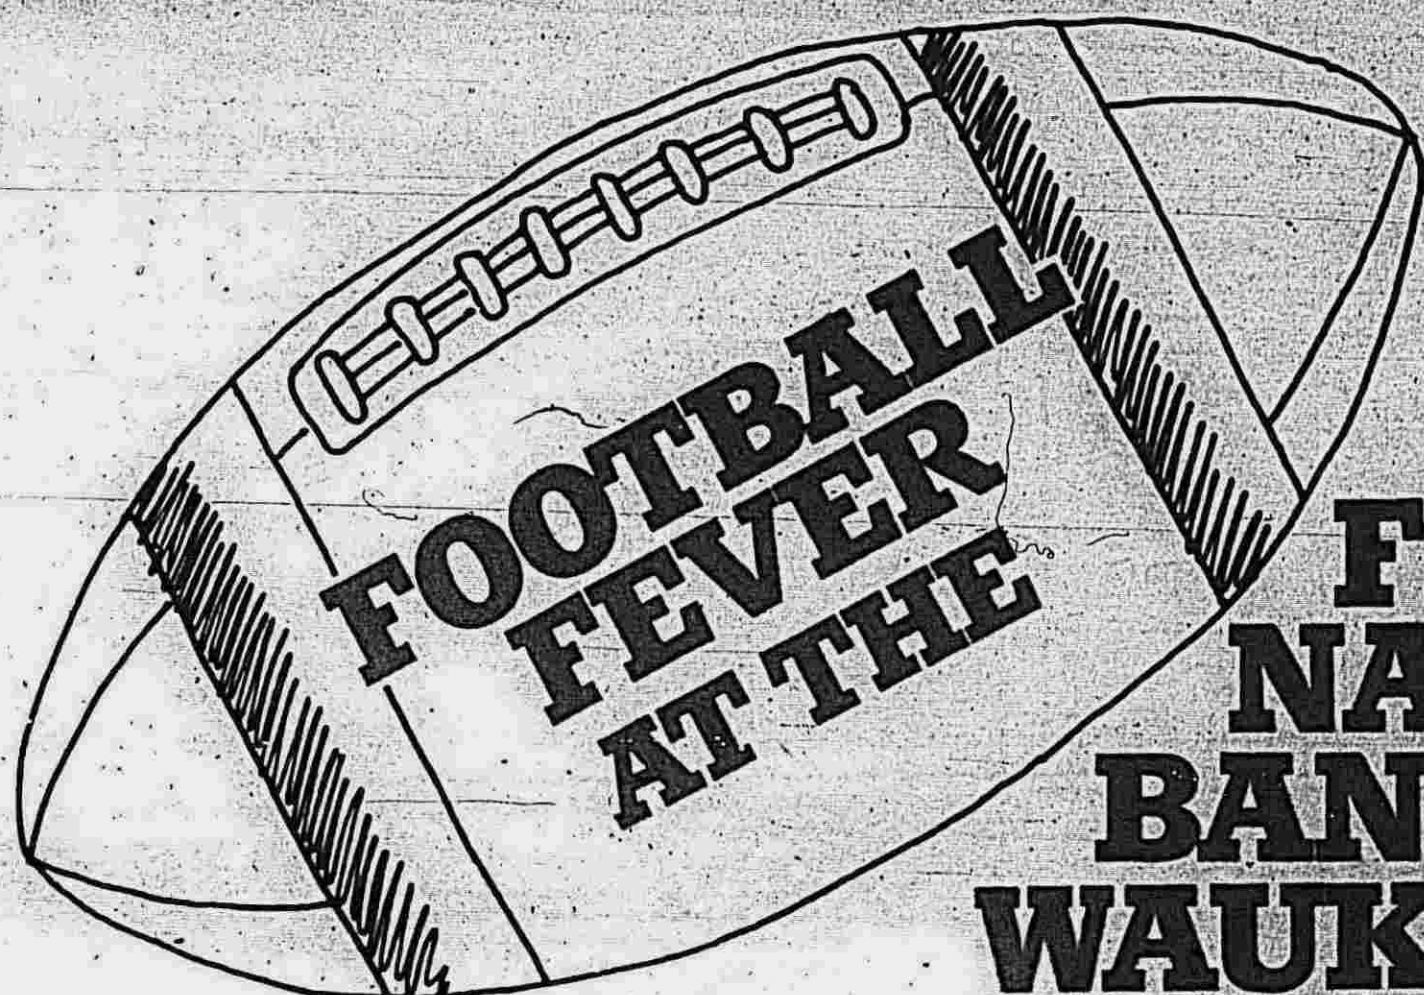

Entrants in the bake-off should bring their baked goods and expect to share them. Musical entertainment will also be provided.

McConnel Kicks-Off County Clerk Campaign

Wauconda Village Clerk Venita L. McConnell will kick-off her campaign for the Republican nomination for Lake County Clerk Saturday night, Sept. 28 in Island Lake at the annual fall dance sponsored by the Wauconda Township Republican Club.

This year's event is a tribute to honor Venita as the township's favorite daughter.

McConnel said, "I hope to receive the endorsement of the Republican Central Committee and I know I will win the primary next spring. I guarantee we'll bring the County Clerk's office under the Republican banner in November, 1986."

"I will provide mature leadership and bring managerial skills to this office that will produce a more efficient and effective operation resulting in a savings to the taxpayer," she added.

McConnel explained that her diversified business background of 15 years in private industry and ten years in Government combine to give her the indepth knowledge needed to meet all the challenges and demands of the County Clerk's office.

"Seven years as Village Clerk and three years in the Assessors Office have given me experience in running elections and coordinating and applying tax rates, two of the prime functions of the County Clerk," McConnell said.

Venita McConnell

She added that she was an Executive Administrator for over 15 years at Reliance Glassworks in Bensenville where she managed the office and handled Corporate finances. "I am known as a people person and this will mean better harmony and cohesion within the office and throughout the county," the Wauconda Clerk said.

Since declaring her candidacy in March, McConnell has received the endorsements of Mundelein Mayor Colin McRae, Libertyville Mayor Paul Neal, Lake Zurich Mayor Henry J. Paulus, Wauconda Mayor Ken McGill, Island Lake Mayor Charles Amrich and Village President Walter Clark of North Barrington.

Other officials who have endorsed her are County Board Members C. Richard Anderson, Jerry Beyer, Glenn Miller, Donald Strenger and Pat Wilson.

Aside from her own race, McConnell exhibits her strong Republican commitment by continuing as Lake County Campaign Coordinator for Congressman Phil Crane.

Basic Guide To Loan Qualification

Here is a basic guideline for determining how large a mortgage loan you qualify for: The monthly payment of principal, interest, taxes and insurance should be no more than 28 percent of your household's monthly income. This payment plus your other monthly payments—auto, car accounts, credit cards, etc.—should amount to no more than 36 percent. To figure how your household qualifies, complete this form.

These percentages are approximate, however. A mortgage lender will consider other factors when determining whether or not you qualify for a mortgage. Your realtor has the expertise to advise you on the potential of your homebuying power and a financing package appropriate to your situation. This example is for fixed rate conventional loans. However, the guide lines are slightly different for VA, FHA, adjustable, and wrap loans.

When you are considering how much home you can afford, remember that home loan interest payments are deductible when you file your income tax returns. With these reductions in your income taxes, you may find you can afford more home than you originally thought.

For example, if the monthly payment for interest and taxes in the first year of your loan is $600, that's a deduction of $7,200 on your federal income tax return. For homebuyers in the 33 percent tax bracket, this means $2,367 less in taxes paid—and greater tax reductions for those in higher tax brackets.

When you look at interest rates, remember that because of the income tax advantage, the "real" rate is less than the amount stated in the loan. If your loan is 13 percent and you are in a 33 percent tax bracket, the real interest rate is 8.71 percent; if you are in the 39 percent tax bracket, the real rate is 7.93 percent.

Step 2: Compute your monthly debts. List only monthly debts that have more than 10 months remaining.

H. Monthly car payments

I. Monthly loan payments

J. Credit cards and charge accounts (5% of the outstanding balance)

K. Total monthly debts

L. Multiply total on Line F by .08.

This will give you the portion of your income available for payment of your monthly debts.

$\times .08 =$

Step 3: Determine whether your debts are in the proper amount.

The total on Line K, your actual monthly debts, should be less than the total for Line L, the amount available for debts. If Line K is greater than Line L, it may be necessary for you to pay off some debts in order to qualify for a mortgage.

Step 4: Determine the amount of mortgage you may obtain.

Determine what your approximate escrow payment will be for taxes and insurance (monthly escrow equals one-twelfth of the annual real estate taxes and one-twelfth of the annual homeowner insurance premium).

Next find the interest rate you will have to pay in the table of monthly payments. Multiply the factor that corresponds to that rate plus the term by the amount you expect your mortgage to be. (Example: The interest rate is 12 percent, term 30 years. Your factor is 10.29 times a mortgage of $60,000 = $617,400.)

To determine whether you meet the lender's guidelines, divide the total payment (principal and interest plus escrow) by your gross monthly income. If the result is 28 percent or less, you will probably meet the monthly debt payments from Step 2. If the result is 36 percent or less, you meet the total debt test.

These amounts represent averages, and other factors are considered to determine your eligibility for a mortgage loan. * Courtesy Red Carpet C. Frank Realty, Fox Lake.

Waste Management Set To Tell LC Waste Plan

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Lake County Solid Waste Advisory Committee was scheduled to hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m., on Wednesday, Oct. 2, at the Libertyville Twp. Hall.

According to Lake County Planner Bob Burlingham who works with the committee, representatives of Waste Management, Inc. were on the meeting's agenda and were expected to present the company's plans for Lake County to the committee.

Also on the agenda were the primary activities outline and their timetables divided into five categories.

The first one is the consideration of a proposal to hire a private consulting firm to do a data base study of Lake County Waste, where it comes from (in and out of the county), where it goes and an analysis of its composition.

The committee has budgeted $50,000 for this study which bids from consultant companies will be taken on. Timetable on the study runs from now until July, 1986.

The second item is the forming of a planning subcommittee to be made-up of county board members and municipal officials whose job it will be to develop the structure of the joint action of the planning agency.

In other words they will develop the plan that will eventually lead to the plan that will result in the implementation of a waste management plan.

The third item has a timetable that goes from July to November '86. The agency will complete the draft of an active plan.

The fourth item has to do with alternative energy. The committee will work on amendment to Senate Bill 21 (a rewrite of the state's utilities act) which is now before Gov. Thompson.

The idea is to submit a proposal for more feasible rates to be paid by the public utilities to small energy producers.

Build your dream with Lincoln Logs.
